Wh for solar, Rs.2.5/kWh for wind. The LCOS of a 4-hour storage project drops to Rs.3.0/kWh by 2030. The high-cost case assumes the cost trajectory of clean technologies ...

Significantly more electricity from wind and solar power is needed to achieve Switzerland's climate targets. This is the conclusion of a new report by a Swiss research ...

Switzerland is taking part in the European research initiative Battery 2030, which aims to improve the longevity and energy density of conventional lithium-ion batteries so that ...

Under Energy Strategy 2050, the Swiss electricity mix should be shaped by renewable energies such as wind and solar energy. But what happens when demand is high and the weather isn't playing ball?

Final bids for the biggest tender for wind and solar capacity closed last week, and it seems that those with big battery proposals may have the best chances.

Winning bids in first generation tender in NSW were pitched at little more than half their levelised cost of energy, while the battery project promised a lot more storage.

The report also took note of the innovations in the kinds of renewable energy tendering, including India's first
